Barbara Uttmann Introduced Bobbin Lace into Germany

From "The Lace Book"

by N. Hudson Moore, October 1904

Germany never occupied an important place in the lace making world, though she early began to copy industriously from France in the north and Italy in the south. She never achieved fame in any branch of the industry, her sole great name in the work being that of Barbara Uttmann, who, having learned to make bobbin lace from a refugee from Brabant, introduced the work to her own country women about 1561. French refugees settling in Dresden and that region brought their knowledge and skill with them, and taught the German workers, so that the quality soon improved.

Saxony Point, so called was a close copy of Brussels Point, and, like that lace, extremely costly. Darned work, laces, and embroidery on net were extensively made, and gold and silver lace was made at Hamburg (another point where the French refugees settled) and became known in Germany as Hamburg Point. Frederick William of Brandenburg encouraged lace makers to settle at Potsdam, and France bought from Germany laces made by the very Frenchmen her intolerance had exiled. Bobbin lace gained a firm hold in Germany and many varieties of coarse laces are still made there by the peasants. Some of the earliest known pattern-books were printed in Germany, and the patterns bear a strong resemblance to those in the Venetian books of the same period."

From "A History of Lace"

by Mrs. Bury Palliser, reprint 1902

"The teachers of lace work during this past century no doubt knew of Barbara, born 1514 in a small German town, later married a rich master miner Christopher Uttmann...under her own name Barbara set up a lace workshop at Annaberg. She thus gave employment to 30,000 persons.

She died in 1575."

The President's Message

With your confidence in voting me into the Office of President, it is with gratitude that I serve as your next first Officer. I look forward with anticipation to a year of helping hands from all of the members of our expansive group. Your ideas and suggestions for an industrious year will be gratefully received. I stand as your servant and representative to further our progress in LACE.

This year marks the first time that a member from Canada has been elected to a Directorship. We know she will represent her area well.

To our Junior Past President who served us well under circumstances not of her making we extend our thanks.

To those New Members that have joined us at our convention we wish for them happy years ahead in progressing with lace and certainly in attaining the many pleasant friendships over the years that develop with us--The National Old Lacers.

Ida Woodard, President

Pre-Convention--EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING NATIONAL OLD LACERS

Detroit-Hilton--August 4, 1970, 1:00 P.M.

In the room of Mrs. Bernice Marye Lang, President, the executive Board met at 1:00 P.M. on August 4, 1970.

The meeting was called by Mrs. Lang, presiding.

The following recommendations were made by the Board:

1. That the Round Robin collection of Lace Books -- and
 2. The Historian's Scrap Books -- and
 3. The N.O.L. Club's Publicity Books be filed in ONE PLACE.
 4. That the years of Office for all N.O.L. Directors be published in the N.O.L. Bulletin.
 5. That all N.O.L. members support our Historian in filing interesting material on Lace or Lace articles.
 6. That we ratify the N.O.L. President's actions in an emergency i.e. in the case of the death of the Treasurer whereby the appointment of Pauline Downs was made to fill out the term of the Treasurer in the interim.
- Further recommendations were that the bills for the evening be paid, for punch and refreshments, 100 Blue membership badges, 200 printed Convention programs, and that $25.00 as a gift be given to Rachel Wareham in token for her splendid work on our Bulletin.

Those members present at this meeting were: Louise Lund, P.P., Mary Russo, P.P. Ted Bouchey (Calif.), Ida Woodard, Olga Barnett, Secretary Pro-tem.

This meeting adjourned at 1:30 P.M.

17th ANNUAL CONVENTION REPORTS

At 7:30 P.M. the 17th ANNUAL MEETING of

was called to order by the President, Mrs. Bernice Marye Lang, in the Michigan Room of the Detroit-Hilton Hotel, Detroit, Michigan.

The invocation was given by Iola Rose (of Connecticut) Past President.

The President gave her greetings to the group and especially those Past Presidents that were present,

Lucille Peterson	Virginia Olsen
Iola Rose	Leola Davis
Beulah Besch	Ruth Whittier

A moment of profound silence was observed in tribute to those members that have left our midst.

The President extended her sincere thanks to the exhibitors; Mary McPeck, Mary Selden, Mary Tonkin, Amy Sass, Lolita Eveleth, Muriel Mitchell (Canada) Lucille Peterson; who made the tables and workshops of interest to the members. Especially remembered was Mary Bolte of Atlanta, Ga., who showed her beautiful, ingenious tablecloth.

Iola Rose moved to dispense with the reading of the minutes of the last meeting.

The recommendations of the Board were accepted and voted to adoption.

The bills of the evening were read as: 5 gallons of Coffee, 4 gallons Punch and 4 trays of Cookies.

By Motion of Olga Barnett, with a second by Leola Davis, these were voted paid.

It was announced that we are now at the 429 mark in membership.

The request of Mrs. Wareham that 600 new directory printings be allowed was motioned by Leola Davis with a second by Ruth Whittier and passed by vote. Ida Woodard expressed the feelings of the group unanimously, by the praise of the work of our "Grand EDITOR".

It was moved that Lolita Eveleth be made the "CONSULTANT ON LACE" representing our N.O.L. by Olga Barnett and seconded by Iola Rose. Lolita expressed her thanks but felt that we should have teachers in the different fields of lace making; that Rachel would know who was best qualified to serve in these offices. It was left for the Board to act on the idea.

Iola Rose expressed concern about the meeting of two days being relegated to Lacers and yet the Doll Club had arranged some of its programs within our meeting days thereby taking many members on a tour at the same time as our meeting time. Lucille Peterson explained that the tour was put on by a convention agency and that the confliction had not been given the proper timing and that this was due to the Doll Club arrangements.

Both Mrs. Selden's and Mrs. Peterson's efforts at program arrangements were lauded and it was felt that better rapport with the Doll Club in the future should take place.

The adoption of the revised By-Laws was next taken on. Upon the reading of each and their merit considered they were adopted to #9, when a question was raised about the notice of these By-Laws ---a few members denied ever having read the notice of changes in the Bulletin and when the month, July bulletin was described denial of having received such notice was made. At this point it was decided to hold over the By-Laws until the meeting next to be held, in order that members could acquaint themselves with the changes as proposed.

The Committee on Nominations Chairman, Leola Davis, read the names on ballot as President: Ida Woodard
 1st Vice President: Doris Southard
 2nd Vice President: Mary Cole
 Corresponding Secretary Olga A. Barnett
 Recording Secretary Mary McPeek
 Treasurer Pauline Downs
 Historian Pat Harris
 Director, South Catherine Stirrup
 Director, Canada Muriel Mitchell

It was voted to accept the slate of officers as read after the call for Nominations from the floor passed without other nominees.

Mrs. Lang extended to our new Canadian Director a vote of Confidence in her willingness to accept this post.

The newly elected OFFICERS assembled, were introduced singularly, and the assembly charged with their acceptance of these elected, whereupon Iola Rose installed them into Office.

The drawing of prizes was held in charge of Ida Woodard. Items donated to be given out were: 5 tating shuttles and 5 pair bobbins, by Mr. Alfred Decker, Wash; 2 sets Unicorn Cards; 1 set of 4 lace cards from the Luton Museum, England, and 1 pair bobbins by Mr. McColgan, Ohio.

The Parade of Lace Dresses and Costumes took place to the delight of those present; Treasures of many decades ago, and to many present, memories restored of bygone days, recalling the "Mother" wore that when.

The meeting adjourned to the ante-room for punch and refreshments at 9:30 P.M.

BOSTON BRANCH

On May 23rd, our meeting was held at the home of Louise Lund in Lexington, Mass. and as usual a sumptuous table was laid before us. Ida Woodard and Margaret Andrews helped with the making of the potato salad and the very unusual cake that is Margaret's speciality.

The meeting progressed through some unusual slides brought by Mary Russo of lace handkerchiefs and some of the members had an exhibit of their own. Favors for the National meeting were completed and a discussion ensued about the coming meeting in Detroit. The same officers were again chosen for the ensuing year. The meeting closed about 4:00 P.M.

The meeting in September will perhaps be held in Andover, Mass. Olga Barnett

SAN FRANCISCO BRANCH BAY AREA

"Our group, being taught by Gertrude Beidermann and Martha Anderson is doing very well making bobbin lace but working very hard. We are really serious in our work and so fortunate to have such good teachers.

On September 22nd we are having our meeting at my home. I plan on having about twenty-five. I am writing for the slides to show the group. Lydia Van Gelder, if she is back from Europe will come too, I hope." Charlotte Sibley

PORTLAND BRANCH

The N.O.L. Bobbin lace makers met at the home of Pat Harris with seven members in attendance. This was the last meeting until September when we hope to have at least 12 to 15 lacers attend. Mrs. H. Barry, a new lacer, attended. She is a weaver and a student of ArVilla's so we expect wonderful things of Helen as she is a natural leader.

June 19-20-21, Mildred Urie, ArVilla and myself (to do talking) will demonstrate for three days at Longview, Washington and this summer we will be at the county and state fairs. We have been offered a booth with the North West Weavers conference in April-May 1971 to show lace and demonstrate lace making. So far we have enough volunteers for three each session. The North West Conference covers Oregon, Washington, Montana, Idaho and Western Canada. We are looking forward to meeting lacers we know only by correspondence.

Y.W.C.A. Bobbin Lace Classes

ArVilla Sweeney started classes in Bobbin Lace at the Y.W.C.A. at the Spring term and with hardly any publicity, had eleven students in two classes. They were all so very enthusiastic about the learning of lace making that the class was continued for the summer by request of ArVilla's students and ArVilla has been asked to continue as a teacher at the Y.W.C.A. as long as students want to learn.

The Summer Class is designing their own pattern for special use, i.e., one student is designing a yoke for a dress with fringe; another, an evening bag, etc.

They are given a firm sound background for a good lacer in the first seven classes; first class used to make pillow and wind bobbins. The McPeck cone pillow is used for all classes. All the bobbins for beginners are double necked and beaded to prevent rolling. Linen thread No. 60 is used for beginners and they soon graduate to finer linen, wool and silk.

The Y.W.C.A. is very pleased with the response to lace classes and plans to continue for at least another full year.

We are hoping each student becomes a N.O.L. member and is active in our Guild

OCTOBER 1970 LACE ACTIVITY

"Mrs. E. H. Kohlmann, Waverly, Iowa and I will be demonstrating at a craft fair in October. I look forward to that. Also in October is the Dairy Cattle Congress (like a State Fair) and expect to demonstrate there again.--A woman from a farm magazine has asked to interview me soon for an article so bobbin lace is getting more and more publicity in the Mid-west, and I've sought out none of it."

Visit with Canadian Lacemakers

PAT HARRIS and ArVILLA SWEENEY

We left home at 8:00 A.M., May 24, 1970 for Canada. Our first stop was at the lovely home of Virginia Gordon where we returned a book that was loaned to ArVilla and me by Virginia. Thomas Wright's book "The Romance of the Lace Pillow". We had Zeroxed the book as it is impossible to get it now. Virginia's hobby is dolls and we saw so many it is hard to just tell of one. Each is a museum piece in it's own right. Then to visit Edna Barnett --- Russ (her husband) met Bob and me at the driveway and again we entered into a world of beauty. Their home is filled with the results of travel and discriminating collecting of exquisite objects d'art; furniture, statuary, lace horological exhibits, stained glass and many examples of Mr. Barnett's own work with rock collecting, finishing and original mounting; and just plain, every day good conversation and company.

We stopped at Everett to visit with Viola Mae Furness, a weaver and lace maker (new member). She looks out on a gorgeous view of Puget Sound from each room with the Olympic Mountains forming a picture we hated to leave.

Arriving in Vancouver at the home of Rita Mittlestadt about 8:00 P.M. after a lovely day with Gertrude Griffin, talking, seeing and making lace.

On Wednesday I attended the meeting of 24 lace makers, the Vancouver group, at the home of Jean Venelli. It was a day to Honor Mrs. Dell Aiken who has devoted all her Lace time to the Group---helping beginners and assisting those with problems along the way. She was presented with a gift in appreciation of her devotion. She will still be at the side of the new president, Mrs. Janne Scharlow, we hope for many, many years. It is such a stimulation to see 24 lacers all together and now we know the art of making bobbin lace will never die, and it is to these dedicated women we owe thanks.

The balance of the week was spent in study with Mrs. R. LeGrand, learning a technic that was new to me, and the result is a traycloth, not quite finished, but well on its way.

On June 2, Rita, Bob and I went to Victoria for the meeting of that group at the home of Mrs. Wilfred (Julia) Burley. We, again, saw beautiful laces and one of the largest bobbin collections on the North American continent.

It was too hot to go farther north, but we will visit Naniamo and Courtney in the Fall when ArVilla, Mrs. Berggreen and I go to Canada.

ArVilla Sweeney at Y.W.C.A. demonstrating Bobbin lace. So much interest was created the Y.W.C.A. started classes --- which are always filled.

Kelowna's First Lace Exhibition

By Muriel M. Mitchell

Kelowna, situated on the shores of Okanagan Lake midway between Vancouver and Banff, Alberta, was the scene of the Interiors' First Lace Exhibition.

A beautiful mannequin dressed in an appropriate old lace dress greeted the hundreds of visitors at the entrance of the Kelowna Centennial museum during the month of June.

I had the pleasant task of assisting Mrs. J. C. Surties and Mrs. T. B. Upton with this display. When I arrived from Vancouver (250 miles) I was pleasantly surprised to see so many beautiful hand made pieces of lace; Carrickmacross, Limerick and Needlepoint, and Irish Crochet. There were also other types, e.g. Battenburg, Embroidered Nets, Princess Laces and others.

Kelowna isn't Irish -- why so many beautiful pieces of Irish Lace? By the way, the name Kelowna is a corruption of the Indian word meaning Grizzly Bear. Father Pandosy of the Oblate Order established a mission in 1859 near the city where he planted the first apple tree. This is a fruit tree growing area.

At the Chicago World's Fair in 1893 an Irish Village was set up to show the results of the Cottage Industry, chiefly the making of beautiful Irish lace. This exhibition was so successful that a profit of $250,000.00, (a considerable sum in 1893) was realized. Most of this money went to the Irish workers but a small portion was used to build a depot in Chicago where the distribution of Irish laces and other goods could continue after the closure of the Fair.

The Viceroy of Ireland and his wife, Lord and Lady Aberdeen, worked very hard to sponsor this Irish Pavilion. It is noteworthy that Lord Aberdeen was the Governor-General of Canada. In 1891 they settled in the Okanagan Valley -- having purchased the Coldstream Ranch. They were closely tied to the early development of Kelowna area. Their home is still standing and the trees that line the long driveway to the house are still growing. They were planted by Lady Aberdeen.

It was no wonder that Kelowna's first Lace Show had so many, many lovely pieces of Irish Lace.

I would like to pay a tribute to Mrs. W. D. Walker who is 93 years old and who was able to take part in the exhibition. Many pieces of her work were displayed; they were delicate, meticulous, as well, as being well designed. Her drawn-thread work cloth was an example of her artistry; her use of different stitches, the texture she developed, made us realize that this art must be preserved. She had also many beautiful needlepoint collars, cuffs and handkerchiefs.

Mrs. K. S. Shepherd of Kelowna also loaned the museum many beautiful pieces of Battenburg and other types of hand made lace. Someone also added some Victorian jewelry too.

But if Miss Elizabeth Smith of Kelowna had not decided that some museum should have some beautiful Buckingham Point, Cluny and Maltese laces that had been in her family for years, this lace show would possibly never had taken place. It was she who started the ball rolling. I caught it. To her we owe a vote of thanks. I am certain Kelowna's women say thank you to her as well as Madames Surties and Upton.

Incidentally, I was able to demonstrate the making of bobbin lace and I have been invited to return in '71.

To my friends in Canada as well as in the United States, do visit Kelowna--the Centennial Museum and the Jester's Antique Shop. I would like everyone to visit Barbara Kellar's office. I believe it is the most unique in the entire world. She, by the way, has a collection of many beautiful pieces of lace. During World War II she was in England and she did some collecting. I am hoping we will have some more National Old Lacers now.

LACE EXHIBIT - FORT WAYNE PUBLIC LIBRARY

"The public Library in Fort Wayne, Indiana held a display of some of my lace in the main lobby of their new library for six weeks ending June 30th. The display was arranged by the supervisor of the fine arts department, and created much interest among the many visitors.

I also gave a lecture and showed more lace at an afternoon event there."

Visit to Ireland and Scotland

I have just returned from my trip to Ireland and Scotland. I went lace hunting in Ireland -- for both antique and modern lace. The antique shops in Dublin had no lace that I could find. Several places seemed quite surprised to be asked for it. The modern was also difficult to locate. The courier of the tour says he now knows more about lace than he ever did before. He was really very helpful. At Youghal no one even knew where to direct us except the convent which was not in town, and of course a tour can not go off its route. At Killarney I did find two shops, one had only Irish crochet, which was available everywhere, and the other had some lovely Carrickmacross which came from the Convent of the Poor Clares in Kenmare. At Glengariff there was a special shop called the Lace Stall with just lace and embroideries run by a little old lady who used to make lace but who is now badly crippled with arthritis. Her lace also came from the Convent in Kenmare. Here I bought a very pretty handkerchief as I knew we were not going to the town of Carrickmacross where lace is made by the nuns of Saint Louis. At Limerick I had bad luck. We were supposed to have lunch there and I had hoped to get to Todd's where I knew lace from the Convent of the Good Sheperd was sometimes available, but a last minute change in itinerary made us pass thru Limerick quite fast and there was no chance to visit the store. Back again in Dublin I had a bit of good luck. Switzer's, a fine store on Grafton Street was having a "craft" week and in wandering around the store I suddenly came across a lady making Limerick lace! It was fascinating to watch her at her frame and I fear I monopolized her for some time, but she seemed glad to talk with some one who knew something about lace. She has made lace since a small child when she learned it at the convent school. At present she knows of only 5 or 6 women who make it. All do needle run and one also does a bit of tambour. Some of the older nuns still make it. Todd's is the only outlet that she knows. I wish I had had more time in Glengariff as I got the idea that an attempt is being made to bring lacemaking back and that there is a designer-supervisor --- but where or under what auspices I do not know. Since this is the Irish Republic it would not be the Rural Industries Development Committee of Belfast.

There were the short wedding veils shoulder and waist lengths, both at Killarney and Glengariff; also doilies. Unfortunately, many of the doilies and handkerchiefs were souvenirs, with harps and shamrocks.

It would be fun to have a private car and be able to track down some of these convents! Helen Barthelmes, July 10, 1970

 TO ALL N.O.L.'s EVERYWHERE June 27, 1970
 GREETINGS!

Thanks for your many cards and letters. They did much to keep me in good Spirits and were greatly appreciated. Just for the record, over 100 cards, letters and Lace Samples for Scrap Books were received.

Special thanks go to Pat Harris and the Bobbinette Lacers; Ruby Westfall for the Kentuckian Old Lacers; to Olga Barnett for the Boston Group and to Edna Barnett and Units I and II of the Tacoma, Washington Group. I cannot begin to enumerate the individual ones received, but to one and all a hearty and full of Love thanks for remembering.

Hoped to be home by July 1st but Doctor feels July 10th or 15th a better date.

Caution to all "Don't try to step on a spider crawling across your kitchen floor, you might Fall for Him with 14 broken bones." Adios!

 "Dear N.O.L. Friends:

I have just renewed my membership in N.O.L. I have learned so much about Lace. I hope I am able to learn to make it. I have met through mail, ArVilla Sweeney who is going to teach me lace making by mail. I have met Ethel Eaton, who has just put out a book on Battenberg Lace. I must say its the most exciting book I have read on laces. Maybe because I was able to identify an old 60" circle of lace I inherited. The pictures are clear and closeups are fine enough to copy. I hope everyone is able to get one for their files. Her co-author is Edna L. Denton. Sorry I can't go to the convention this year. I am planning to go in the future though. Thank you for the most interesting N.O.L. bulletin!

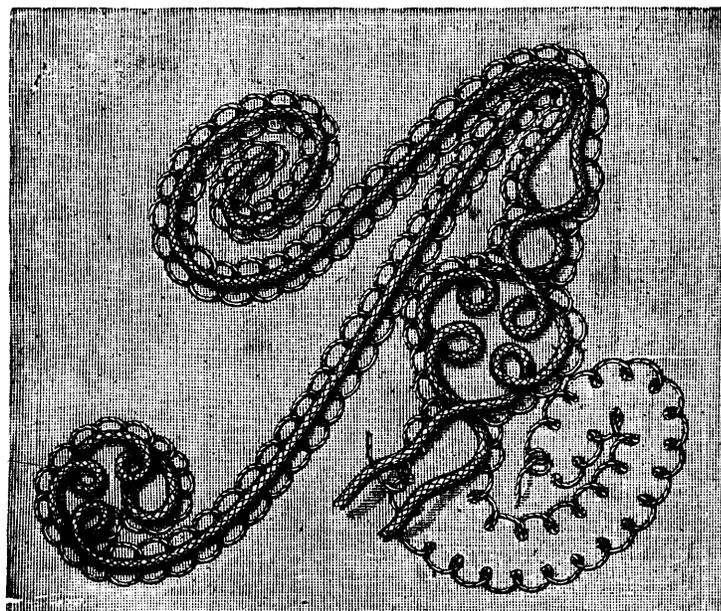

Sincerely, Isabelle Klima

POINT LACE

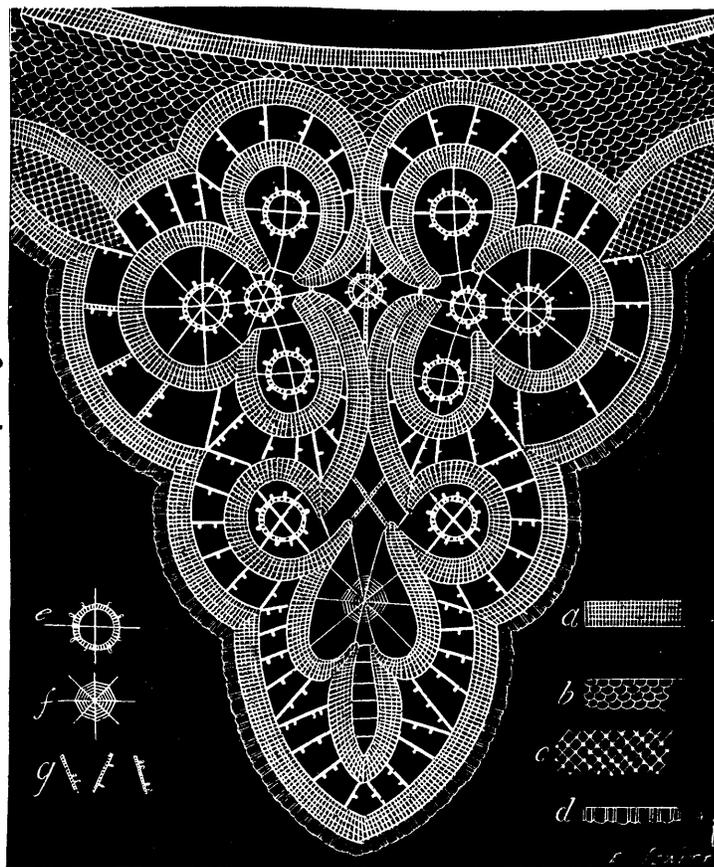

The materials required for this elegant branch of needlework are neither numerous nor expensive. Tracing cloth for pattern, braids and cords, linen thread and two or three sizes of needles, scissors and thimble.

In working point lace the following directions must be attended to, begin at the left hand, and work from left to right, when not otherwise directed, as in reverse rows. As there are more than one hundred stitches used in this beautiful art, much study and opportunity of seeing specimens of old point lace is required to give a beginner any idea of the various kinds of point lace. The stitches used in point lace may be divided into:

Stitches Proper, or points
Connecting Bars
Finishing Edgings
Wheels, Rosettes

The basic stitch is the simple buttonhole stitch.

33 point lace stitches were given in the June and August 1965 bulletins

Bobbin motifs are "Point Plat" (flat point). This example is entirely bobbin motifs. Sometimes needle motifs are applied instead of a mixture of bobbin and needle motifs. Needle made berries "eyes", are scattered over the machine net ground in this cutting. Machine engre-ture added at top.

Hand Made Tape Lace
"Probably should be called "Renaissance!"
"I'm sure this piece has a machine made tape. The needlework bars and fillings are in the Venetian Point manner.
I bought this in Paris in 1925."
Lolita Eveleth

Two pieces of hand made Duchesse. While the parts may look tape like, it isn't really tape but separate pieces made on pillow and joined. The leaves have nice rounded tip, each made that way. The wider Duchesse shows well made flower centers by needle.

difficult ; the foundation being plain netting, the design is darned in the various stitches. Almost half of a square is darned in linen stitch, with a spray embroidered upon it. The circles and bars need no description as they are easily made and very clearly illustrated in the engraving; a border of detached squares heavily woven is placed all around for a finish. The work is done with heavy écru linen thread, or it may be made of white linen thread, with the raised spray embroidered in butter-color. Line throughout with rose colored silk. In its entirety this counterpane, with the pillowshams to match, complete a work of magnificence.

DETAIL OF LEAF FOR EMBROIDERED SPRAY ON NETTED CORNER.

FIGURE No. 2.—This illustration clearly demonstrates the method of working the embroidered spray on the counterpane shown in figure No. 1. It is very simple and needs very little comment, as any one at all familiar with darning will understand. The large squares of the original netting are darned in linen stitch, and the foundation of the leaf is made any length desired; after which it is worked under and over, tapering at the point, or otherwise shaping the leaf as fancy may dictate.

This is done by drawing the stitches very tightly when working for the points and allowing the thread to cover the foundation stitches very loosely where the leaf is to be broad. The stems are worked in over-and-over stitch upon the foundation threads.

FIGURE No. 3.—About two ounces of black silk, a coarse knitting needle No. 12, and a half-inch wide mesh will be required in making this article.

Begin the neckerchief in the center and work from point to point upon a foundation of 112 stitches, working over the smaller mesh two plain rows, but do not work the last stitch of each row.

Third row.—Work over the large mesh with double stitch, one stitch in each loop except the last; do not work that.

Fourth row.—With the small mesh and single silk work one stitch into each long loop, twisting the loops once or twice as you make each; continue to repeat from the second row until you have worked eight repeats of the pattern; take the work from the foundation, pick out the knots, run a thread through the second row, and work upon the first row; for the second half work as described for the first, commencing with the row of long twisted loops.

For the Border.—Work in the following manner:

First round.—Over the small mesh net one stitch into each stitch of foundation, except in the stitch at each end of the first row; in these work two stitches.

Second round.—Like first round.

Third round.—Over the large mesh work four stitches into one stitch of previous round, pass over one stitch. Repeat all round the work.

Fourth and Fifth rounds.—Over the small mesh, one stitch into each stitch of last round.

Sixth round.—Like third round.

Seventh round.—With double silk one stitch into each stitch of last round.

This design will make a very handsome shoulder shawl and may be enlarged to any size, although when made of silk, a length which simply protects the shoulders will be sufficient and can be made in the following manner:

Add to the foundation as many stitches as will be necessary to increase the centre the size desired, and follow the directions given. After working the scollops described in the directions, a few extra rows may be added, until the shawl is large enough to suit. For some it may be found easier to leave the center its original size, by working upon a foundation of 112 stitches according to the directions, and adding a border of this or any similar design which may be selected. The border must be of a depth to increase the size of the shawl to the dimensions intended.

MIDWEST WEAVING CONFERENCE

Des Moines, Iowa, June 1970

A full page in the Des Moines "Sunday Register", June 7, 1970 describing the weaving and lace exhibited, included the two pictures of Doris Southard and some of her work.

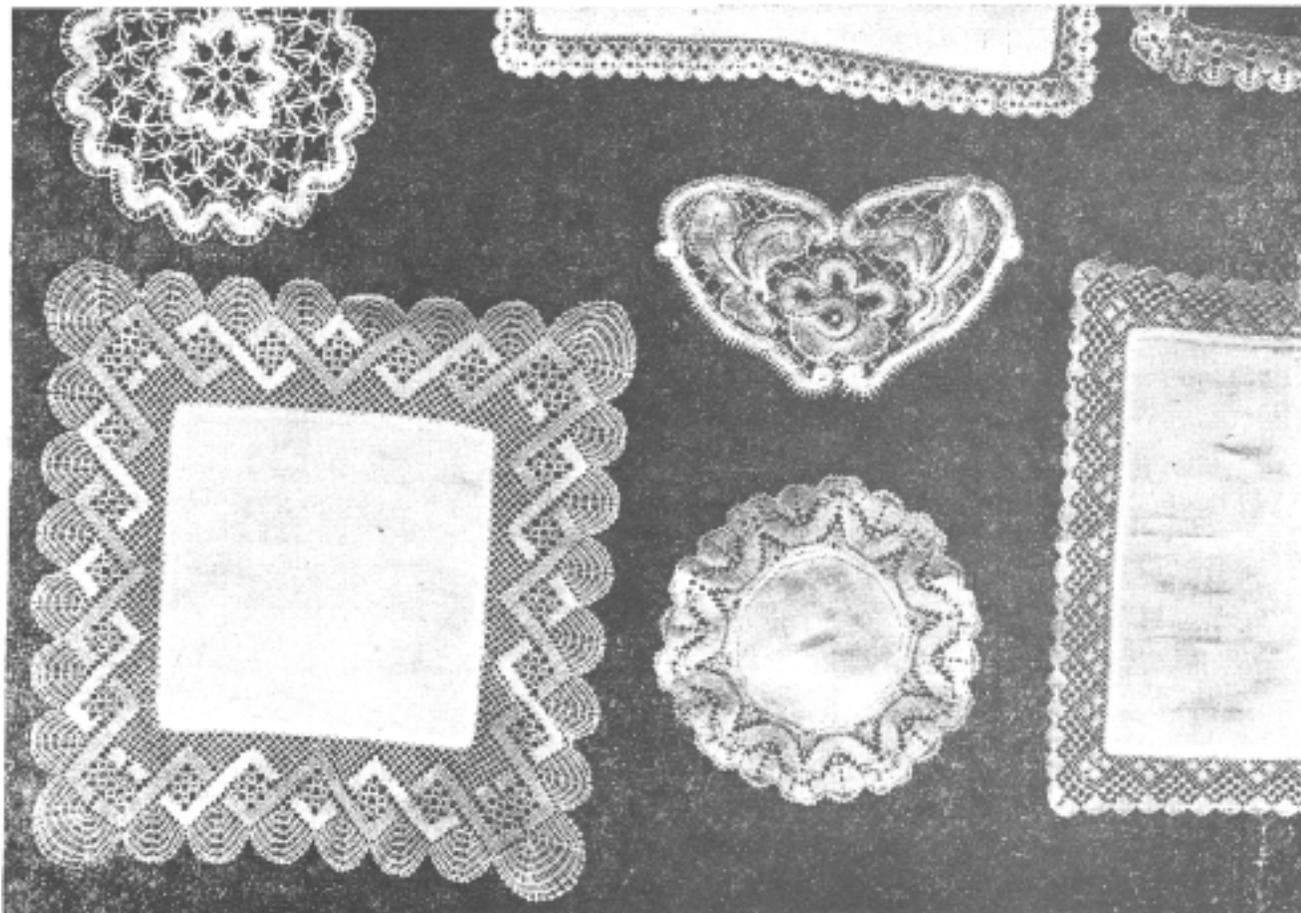

Another member, Harda Kuisk had two interesting small wall hangings entered in the individual competition; both in bobbin lace technique but using heavy colored yarns in a very modern expression. "I was pleased to win a second on a bobbin lace handkerchief" says Doris.

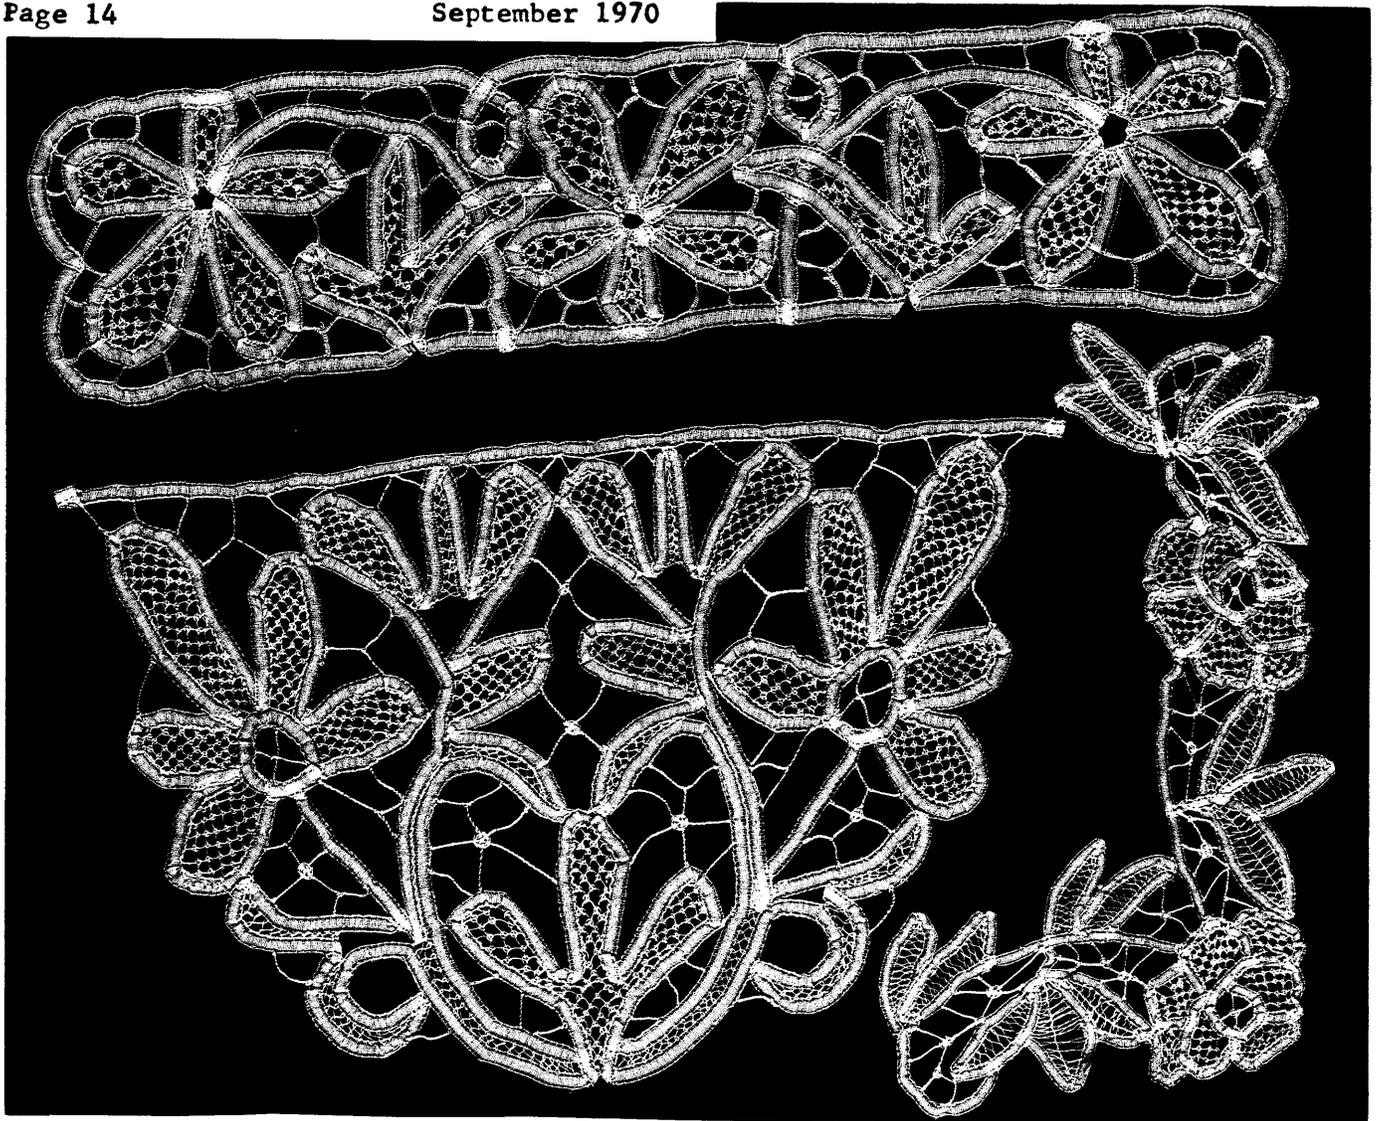

First in the same category went to a lovely doily in filet lace by Evelyn Jenkins.

Mrs. Southard has taught bobbin lace making in adult education classes of Waterloo and Waverly, contributing to an American revival that may result, some experts think, in more craftsmen in this country than in Europe.

This Is Weaving, Too— You don't HAVE to use a loom to be weaving, as Mrs. T. W. Southard of New Hartford points out when she demonstrates bobbin lace-making. The wooden bobbins at left of the picture hold the threads which are the "warp" of her weaving, and the bobbins at right hold the "weft." Pins hold the threads which already are woven. Below are delicate examples of Mrs. Southard's art. Such work sometimes is confused with tatting which is a form of knotting, or with hairpin lace which is crocheted. Bobbin lace is true weaving—"that's the difference," Mrs. Southard says.

BATTENBERG LACE - Top and left pieces made by Alica Negron from an Italian pattern. Right piece sent to her by Pat Harris. Alica says, "I would like to thank her for the many kindnesses she has extended to us in lending patterns, helpful hints on lacemaking, etc."

"I am doing a study on needle lace and in the past 3 years have not been able to locate or trace anyone who does or has done any. I also am searching for literature, patterns, or working details. I would be glad for anyone to contact me regarding any of the above.

My last two trips to Europe both in Belgium and Venice, they told me that they can scarcely get anyone now to do or learn needle laces because the work is so slow and painstaking. There is danger in the future of the art dying out. I am doing this study in an attempt to try to perpetuate it in the United States especially among handweavers of which I am one. Many of our weavers do bobbin lace and macramé and needle lace could be adopted in a contemporary way."

LACE MAKING in CEYLON 1970

"I am enclosing a view card showing an elderly Teacher instructing a class of girl students in Bobbin Lace. In Ceylon, girls and women, more particularly rural folk from the ages of 15 to 60 years are engaged in this handwork. This is done, not as a full-time occupation (because the income is small) but as a leisure time job, to while away idle hours indoors. I guess there would be roughly about 10,000 to 20,000 girls and women engaged in this handcraft. However, no Societies in under-developed villages have classes in Bobbin Lace making, but their numbers are few and far between. I think girls' orphanages and homes for destitute girls do teach this handcraft to their children.

Our girls and women also make embroidery lace and I will send you samples of this in another letter.

I enclose herewith 14 samples of bobbin lace. You ask if our women use linen or cotton thread. I think they use both.

From the samples I think you could find whether they are made of linen or cotton.

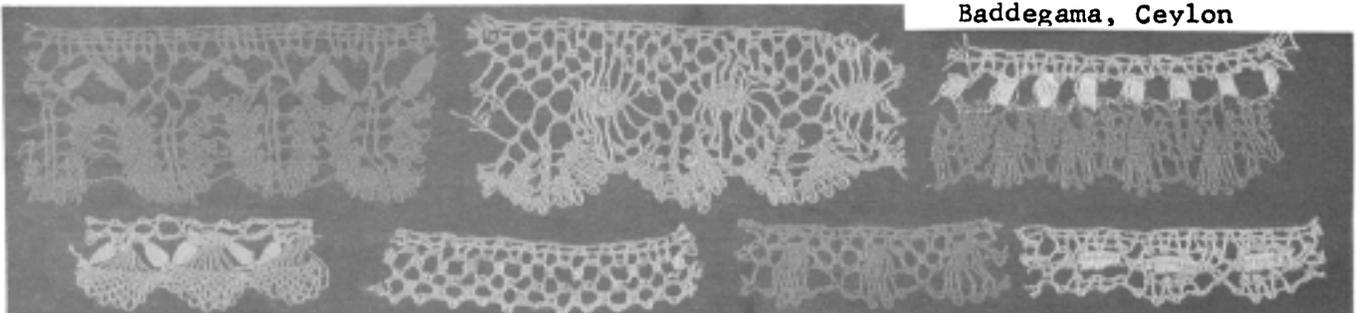

1. If any of your members wish to have lace (length to be specified) of these samples I am prepared to supply.
2. If any of your members wish lace made to any particular color, or to double colors, or of any pattern or with any thread that you supply, I could get it made at a very reasonable price.

No money need be sent in advance. On receipt of the lace you(or your members) may send me whatever it is worth to them. Any monies sent on receipt, however small will be gratefully accepted, with no grumble whatever.

The pillow on which the bobbins hang, and the bobbins are all made by our local carpenters. Both these are very crude articles made cheaply, to suit the purse of the buyers, who are invariably poor rural folk. I will send you a few bobbins by sea mail if you like. No money is required. I shall be glad to supply you with any further information on this matter."

Yours Sincerely,

Victor P. Dharmadasa

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS BRANCH

MERRIMACK VALLEY MOTEL, Sept. 26, 1970

After an excellent meal with a sumptuous dessert the meeting opened with Olga Barnett, president, presiding. The National president, Ida Woodard, honored us with her presence. There were twelve present to reap the old time method of Armenian Lace making although only five(5) really tried and succeeded to accomplish the stitch as Mrs. Aaronian, an old countrywoman sought to teach a lace she has not done for 30 years. She had samples of her lace on handkerchiefs she had made to show us. It is a very easy stitch to master and remains the basic stitch of all the very lovely lace one sees done thus. It is a matter of either making the loops larger or smaller or catching them in units together to make the various patterns. It was an endeavor to get an individual to demonstrate this lace. So many of these ladies do not do it any longer.

The president brought up the matter of By-Laws to be reviewed by each of the members to facilitate the passage at the next National Meeting of these changes that would be necessary to better our government. Ida Woodard made some changes in lieu of the president of the Boston Branch being on two (2) committees in addition to being the Corresponding Secretary. Her choices are to receive letters of invitation. Plans and suggestions for the next meeting in California were forthcoming from the members and were duly appraised by the National President.

Our next Boston meeting will be held in Concord, N.H. with Lolita Eveleth as Chairman. The date will be forthcoming on notice. It is hoped that ALL members will try to get to N.H. We hope for Iola Rose and her sister a speedy recovery.

Respectfully submitted,

O. A. Barnett, R.N. Sec'y/President

PORTLAND, OREGON BRANCH

The Portland Branch of N.O.L. met at the home of our new member, Mrs. Hilda Schoenfelder. Ten members attended to honor mesdames Martha Anderson, Gertrude Biedermann, of San Francisco, and Rita Mittelstadt of Burnaby, British Columbia. We were shown laces from Germany and any stitch or part of lace was demonstrated by our guests, for those asking about it.

We will have a picture of the corsages worn by our San Francisco guests for the January bulletin. That worn by Rita Mittelstadt was shown in the March issue, of N.O.L. bulletin, page 49, pricking pattern, May 1970. This was from the book "The Complete Book of Needlework" --- by Irene Hirst, published by The Taplinger Press and is available from your favorite book store.

A lovely luncheon was served, of delicious food (no calorie watching) as these were the German dishes that Hilda, Martha and Gertrude had enjoyed in Germany. The three are from near Schneeberg, Germany and had learned lace making as children. Rita Mittelstadt was born on the Island of Java, at Dajaharta and raised in Holland. She too, learned lace making as a small child and is now teaching lace making to her next door neighbor, Lisa, age 6, and she will become a member as soon as she has made the bird in bobbin cluny sent in by Mrs. Edna Barnett, Jan. 1970 bulletin and the rabbit from the new Spanish patterns that can be purchased from the Craft & Hobby Book Service.

Our membership is growing everyday as new bobbin lacers graduate from Y.W.C.A. classes taught by ArVilla Sweeney -- and new members come to us from radio, T.V., and the daily news papers. We are now 16 strong that actively make Lace. Meetings are held in homes the first Thursday of each month. We do have a General Meeting of all N.O.L. members every two months.

SAN FRANCISCO-BAY AREA Chapter of N.O.L.

Mrs. Lydia van Gelder, a teacher of Fabric Arts, gave a very inspiring lecture about her classes in Spinning and Weaving, at the College of Santa Rose this past summer. Her classes were filled to capacity with students, young and not so young. These students came from all parts of the United States. Lydia said that there is such a great need for the young students to study the old established techniques of needlework in order to interpret modern ideas in Fabric Work Arts. Her students worked with bobbins and heavy colored threads on a Cellotex board covered with felt, with the bobbin pattern fastened onto the board. Lydia showed colored slides of her students working out their daily problems in bobbin lace.

Mrs. Charlotte Sibley, our September hostess, is also a lace maker. She exhibited some of her fine pieces of pillow lace. Margaret B. Leach

Up until the beginning of this club year, we believe high-school student, Bonnie Lampe, was our youngest member.

She writes: September 22, '70

"I got interested in lace making through my grandmother, Mrs. Martha Lampe.

I had to have a project for my home economics class and I was put together a scrap book. Included in this book were samples of different patterns of lace that I had learned to make. My aunt, Sophia Cornelison, from Seattle, Washington, helped me by sending books, thread and a handmade handkerchief edged with lace, which really inspired me. Also as part of project I made enough lace for a pair of pillow-cases that I had embroidered earlier.

Now, that I am out of high school and working, I can't find enough time for to make as much lace as I would like."

"My grandmother in Keighly, Yorkshire, Eng. taught me Torchon lace making during this last summer vacation, when we were over there for one month.

She supplied me with two cushions of different types, a revolving drum and a square padded cushion.

She also gave me some wooden bobbins and I managed to find a few more in antique shops including one ivory one. I mastered two patterns, one is called the spider. I have three prickings including a corner.

My grandmother hopes to come and visit us next year when I intend her to teach me more.

There we saw students, some old; some young, making lace. I am very much interested in this art but wish there was a school or teacher close by. My grandmother, (Mrs. Reba Ann Fucilla) who first got me interested in bobbin lace making lives in the midwest so it is difficult for me to continue lessons with her.

MRS. LUCY LOPEZ CREATES BOBBIN LACE

By NAOMI HOLT Women's News Staff

The ancient art of lace making is being revived in Beaumont, (Texas) by Mrs. Lucy Lopez, 1020 Elaine. For hundreds of years lace has been considered one of the beautiful and luxurious things made by man.

The golden age for lace and lacemaking was from about 1550 to 1750 when the fashionable people began to use it on their clothing. Until then, lacework was used mostly by the Church for priestly vestments.

The art and technique of lacemaking was passed from one generation to the next, usually by the mother teaching her daughters.

Mrs. Lopez still makes bobbin lace, an art she learned as a child, "My mother began teaching me when I was about eight years old" she said. She is now teaching her granddaughter this art. For some reason she did not teach her daughters though. "I guess I was too busy" she said.

Bobbin lace is made on an oval pillow.

Lacemakers take a piece of heavy paper, draw the design on it and then stretch it over the pillow. Pins are inserted along the outline of the design. Threads are wound on a bobbin, which is about six inches long, and the thread is attached to the pins.

The lace is made by passing the bobbins over and under each other, forming the design as outlined on the paper.

Mrs. Lopez uses 72 bobbins to create the lace she is making. "I have used as many as 200 bobbins at one time" she said. It takes her one day to make about 15 inches of lace.

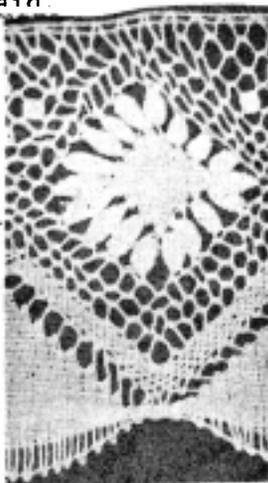

The famous Valenciennes lace is bobbin-made, as are Mechlin, Point d'Angleterre and Chantilly.

At the age of 76, Mrs. Lopez is making lace for tablecloths and napkins for her five daughters. "It will take from eight to 10 yards of lace for each cloth" she said.

"I will certainly send you news of our lace makers. The class is held at the High Wycombe College once a week on Weds. from 7 to 9 evenings; the cost for this is L3-10s=0 from Sept. to July. We have to have 15 people sign on for the session, otherwise the College will not allow the class to be run. We are very fortunate to have an elderly lady to teach us. She has been making lace since a child, her knowledge is vast and her collection of lace and bobbins is a joy to look at. Our pillows, we make our selves, bobbins we hunt in street markets and antique shops, ---the prices of these we find are rising at a terrible rate and they are hard to find. The College purchased pins, cottons and card (to prick our patterns on) for the session. The first lessons are spent on basic stitches. When these are mastered we are allowed to do what pattern appeals to each student." Joyce Willmot modern versions of Bobbin Lace

BY MARGUERITE GUILLET BROOKS

Can it be less than twenty years ago that American-born women were practically unaware of the existence of a modest little tool called the lace bobbin? As a matter of fact very few of the old bobbins so popular in the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Centuries were to be found in the United States at that time and those still intact were hidden away in some remote corner of the attic, neglected and, in most cases, entirely forgotten. To find the reason for this deplorable state of affairs started the writer on a tour of investigation and a self-initiated course of study in the winter of 1937.

My English grandmother had taught me to darn at the tender age of four and when I was six a Norwegian step-mother was teaching me all the fine stitches she had learned in her native country. At seven I was hemstitching sheer linen handkerchiefs and counting the threads for each stitch. The latter task, you may be sure, was not self imposed but did add to the sum total of my experience and training to be of value in the job ahead—that of helping to bring back into the American home the fine old art of bobbin lacemaking.

Trained at Syracuse University under the sympathetic and gifted tutelage of Rosemary Ketcham, designer, and later as teacher in her department, I developed an avid and all-absorbing interest in the arts and in later years became actively employed in simplifying methods and tools for the craftsmen.

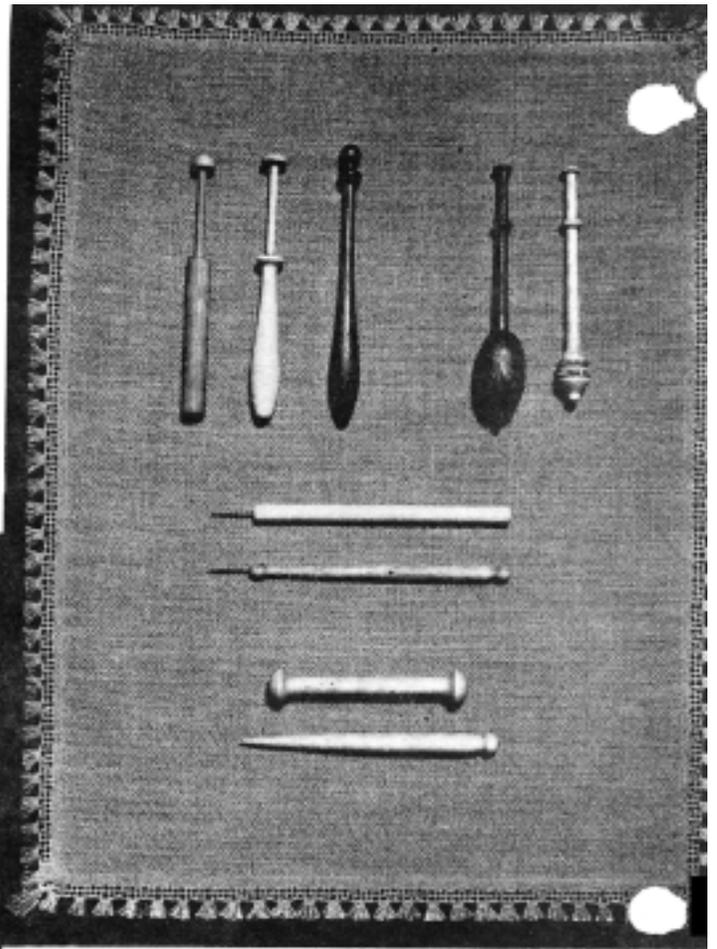

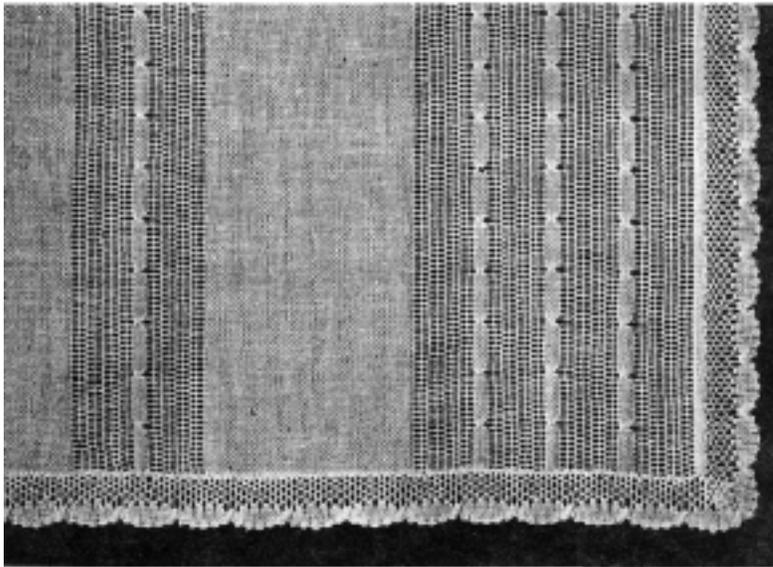

And then, one day, while visting the lace section of the Metropolitan Museum of Art I began to wonder why our women were not associating themselves with bobbin lacemaking as a creative activity. This question on my mind started a new ball rolling and after years of research and travel in different European countries to observe and

Below them, top to bottom: straight pricket; turned pricket; a shuttle bobbin; thread placer. Below: "whole stitch" and "half stitch" combined and used as an edging to complement similar weaves. Made on a two-harness loom.

Right: growth of an idea from the first rough paper sketch to the finished article. Opposite page, left to right: 9, entre-deux of right twist cotton thread, "lattice," "cloth" and "torchon" grounds; 10, coral wool "trolley" is used to tie in lace with a negligee; 11, variation of Swedish design, combining natural cord silk with 120/2 linen for a lace with true distinction.
