Subject: Join Stanford Crowd Course Initiative: Collaborate, Create, Share Courses with the World

Hi students,

Want to demonstrate and share your knowledge while impacting education? Whether you want to teach topics in computer science, social technologies, data science, HCI or any other area - its up to you!

Join the Stanford Crowd Course Initiative to collaboratively create online courses - receive valuable feedback & rec. letter from Stanford professors, build a unique teaching experience, and get your work published on our Stanford platform for a larger audience.

Students from any department, pursuing any degree are encouraged to apply. For more information about this effort, please check out crowdcourse.stanford.edu, or email Rajan Vaish at rvaish@cs.stanford.edu.
